Reward to catch robbers who threatened security van driver

SUSPECTS: CCTV pictures of the two men taken outside the van driver's home at Edmunds Tower in Hayden Road, Harlow

A £10,000 reward has been offered in the hunt for two armed robbers who stole thousands of pounds after threatening a security firm driver at his Harlow home.

Detectives from the Kent and Essex serious crime directorate have released CCTV images of two men believed to have been involved in the heist, in which a driver for security firm G4S was forced to hand over money while he made deliveries in Nazeing on January 3.

The CCTV images were taken from footage captured outside the driver's flat in Edmunds Tower off Hayden Road between 12.30am and 3.50am the same day.

On Tuesday police officers returned to the scene of the robbery in Middle Street, Nazeing, in an attempt to find new witnesses.

They stopped drivers to ask them if they could recall any suspicious activity on the day of the incident one week earlier.

According to detectives, the robbers forced their way in to the home of the driver and threatened to harm him if he failed to hand over the money at a pre-arranged location during that day's deliveries.

The cash was then taken at 5.30pm.

Senior investigating officer Detective Chief Inspector Simon Parkes has so far refused to give details of the exact amount of money that was stolen, but he described the sum as "considerable".

By CHRIS MOSS
News Editor

chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

"This was clearly the work of a team of organised criminals and is among the most significant cash-in-transit robberies in the UK in the past six years," he said.

"Their planning is evident and although I don't wish to comment on the amount stolen, there is a considerable amount of cash unaccounted for."

"G4S has offered a £10,000 reward for any information leading to the conviction of those responsible."

"I would appeal for anyone in the area of the driver's home between 12.30am and 3.50am on Tuesday, January 3 to come forward."

"I need to trace two men in the photographs who were seen to enter and leave the tower block around these times."

DCI Parkes said Tuesday's stop check operation had been fruitful and thanked drivers for their co-operation.

"We located a number of witnesses who saw the van on the night of the incident and we have been given a number of leads which are now being followed up," he added.

Anyone with information about the robbery or the identity of the two suspects should call the incident room on 01277 266835 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Thug given four-county pub and club ban

A HARLOW man who has served a jail sentence for grievous bodily harm has now been banned from entering pubs, bars and nightclubs in four counties.

Bradley Stantford (36), pictured right, has been made subject to an interim Violent Offender Order barring him from licensed premises in Essex, Hertfordshire, Bedfordshire and Cambridgeshire.

Stantford, of Adams House, off Post Office Road, has also been ordered not to contact a named individual for the duration of the order, which runs until March 16, 2012. If he breaks it he could be jailed for up to five years.

The order was granted at Watford Magistrates Court on Monday following an application by Hertfordshire Constabulary.

Detective Inspector Stuart Orton said: "Violent crime has a devastating effect on victims, their families and the wider community. This is the first time that Hertfordshire Constabulary has considered it necessary to apply for a Violent Offender Order."

"These orders are a valuable tool to help protect the public and to prevent the violent offending behaviour of the individuals concerned."

A full banning order will be applied for when the interim order lapses.

DI Orton added: "I'd urge members of the public and those working in the licensed trade to report any breaches to Hertfordshire Constabulary."

MP's challenge to boss of care home

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has called on the management of the under-fire Partridge Care Centre to hold an urgent public meeting to address allegations of abuse and neglect of its elderly residents.

Mr Halfon made the demand in a strongly-worded letter sent to Surjit Rai, chief executive of care home owners Rushcliffe Care, after being contacted by disillusioned former staff members and relatives unhappy with the quality of care provided to residents of the 117-bed home on Partridge Road.

In his letter, the MP also highlighted the findings of a recent Care Quality Commission inspection which criticised the centre for failing to protect residents against the "unsafe use" of medication and raised concerns over inadequate staffing, employee training and the general cleanliness of facilities.

The report came just weeks after police announced the centre would not face criminal action following an investigation into the deaths of two residents in August last year.

Mr Halfon, who will meet Health Minister Paul Burstow next week to discuss the possibility of the CQC stepping in to ensure the safety of residents living at the home, told the Star he first became aware of problems at the home after being contacted by a

STATEMENT FROM RUSHCLIFFE CARE

WE were made aware of a weak managerial style within the home in March 2011 and immediate steps were taken to rectify said management and to ensure conformity to company policies, procedures, protocols and standards.

Senior management recognised the failings at Partridge Care Centre and, with the agreement of Essex County Council, entered into a voluntary agreement of non-admissions within the home until such times that systems and processes improved.

We have since made a series of major changes within the home including the introduction of an experienced senior management lead to ensure that the home is able to deliver positive outcomes for residents.

Additional training at all levels in the home has been provided as well as additional resources, man hours and lead personnel to enable us to achieve improved outcomes for the resident group.

We are unable to comment on individual unsubstantiated allegations which have been made, but we can assure you that we take all complaints and allegations seriously and that when brought to our attention they are dealt with promptly and fairly.

Harlow resident unhappy with treatment of her elderly mother.

"Since that time there have been four difficult reports from the Care Quality Commission," he said. "The latest in November 2011 still has major criticisms of how the home is being run."

"For that reason I have written to the CEO of Rushcliffe Care, urging him strongly to be open and transparent about what has gone wrong, and inviting him to come to Harlow to a public meeting for patients, residents, and their families and friends.

"Harlow people will want to hear what is being done to ensure that this never happens again."

Among those seeking an explanation is Michael Keith, whose father moved into the home in December 2009. "In the two years my father was there, the home lacked management and staff and they received no support from head office or the owners," he said.

"I was complaining from the very beginning because he was not washed for weeks. His clothes and room smelled strongly of urine."

"In August last year I finally removed my father from this sad home because he still was not getting proper care and attention, even though it has cost him many thousands of pounds over the two years."

Troublesome trees take starring role in chainsaw massacre

FIVE trees which have been blamed for causing damage to pavements in Harlow town centre are to be felled.

The ageing trees are being cut down at the request of Essex Highways, which needs to carry out repairs to pavements damaged by the roots.

Two trees causing problems for disabled motorists using the West Gate Square car park were removed earlier this week, while three in Broad Walk will be cut down on Monday after uneven paving slabs caused several accidents.

Tony Hall, portfolio holder for environment, said: "These five trees have been part of our town for a long time but we need to ensure that our busy town centre is safe for pedestrians and shoppers to use. We are carrying out this work in the early part of the week to minimise disruption to both businesses and shoppers."

He added: "As the three trees in Broad Walk are in a prominent part of the town centre we will be replacing them with new trees."

No room at shelters for unwanted pets

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TWO animal shelters are making an urgent new year appeal to find new homes for dogs and cats in their care.

Mutts In Distress and Chestnut Cat Sanctuary, both of which cover the Harlow area, are working at full capacity after being inundated with new arrivals over the past few weeks.

The shelters, which take in unwanted and abandoned animals that would otherwise be destroyed, say they will struggle to take in any more until their current intakes are re-homed.

"We are pretty desperate right now," said Mutts in Distress care assistant Jackie McNally. "We currently have over 35 dogs ready for re-homing including 15 puppies.

"Then there are all the others who have come to us after being neglected or abused and will need special care for a while to get them better.

"These animals really need a good home for the new year and we would urge anyone considering getting a dog or puppy to come and see us first."

Chestnut Cat Sanctuary manager Gill Beard said one of the biggest problems they faced was owners not having their animals neutered.

"It is imperative that pet owners have their animals neutered as early as possible," she said. "Many people don't realise that kittens as young as five months can be sexually active.

"Before they know it they have a whole litter on their hands and are unable to cope so they end up dumping the animals at shelters like ours to deal with.

"We do not have the space to take any more animals in right now and have a waiting list of over 50. We urgently need people to come forward and adopt these animals so that they can be cared for in a good

County council in call for more foster carers

PEOPLE with experience of working with or looking after children and young people are being asked to consider becoming a foster carer.

Essex County Council said there is a specific need for people who can take brothers and sisters together, older children, youngsters with disabilities and also for mother-and-baby placements.

Although no specific qualifications are needed to become a carer, applicants must show they want to make a difference to a child who has had a difficult start in life. Fast track entry could also be given to those with relevant qualifications and experience.

Councillor Sarah Candy, cabinet member for children's services, said: "The start of a new year is a great incentive to finally make that call to us. It could be the beginning of a tremendously rewarding career in fostering."

Foster carers can earn up to £19,500 a year. Full training, ongoing career development and a 24-hour telephone support line are also provided.

For more information visit www.essex.gov.uk/fostering or call 0800 801 530.

Schools needed for world record attempt

HARLOW schools are being encouraged to sign up for a charity's record-breaking fundraiser.

SignHealth, a charity set up to help deaf and hearing impaired people, is looking for pupils, teachers and parents to take part in its Sign2Sing world record attempt for the most young people signing and singing a song simultaneously.

The event is designed to raise both awareness about deafness and funds for the organisation.

Chief executive Steve Powell said: "More than 800 schools have so far signed up but we are hoping around 1,000 schools will participate to ensure we break our current world record."

The closing date to register for Sign2Sing, which takes place on Wednesday, February 8, is next Friday (January 20) with a suggested entry donation of £1 per person.

For more information visit www.sign2sing.org.uk or call 01494 687600.

St Clare lottery result

THE winner of the £1,000 prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, January 6 is ticket holder 539978, who lives in Nazeing.

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number 700907, who lives in Harlow.

Golf day lands hospice with a wedge of cash

THE proceeds for a charity golf tournament held last summer have been presented to St Clare Hospice.

The golf day, which was organised and sponsored by Weston Homes, raised £40,000.

A total of 61 teams took part in the tournament. Among those who joined in was sports promoter Barry Hearn, chairman of Leyton Orient Football Club.

Weston Homes director Bob Weston presented hospice chief executive Tanya Curry with a cheque for the final amount over the Christmas holidays.

"St Clare Hospice is a cause that is very close to our hearts," he said. "I would like to thank everyone who attended the golf day or contributed in some way to such a worthy cause.

"I know the money raised will greatly help the hospice to continue the excellent work that it does."

St Clare's services providing palliative care to terminally and seriously ill people cost more than £2.6m a year, of which 24 per cent comes from the NHS. The remainder has to be raised by the hospice.

St Clare communications manager Giles Wright thanked Mr Weston and his team, adding: "They are amazing people."

● DOG owners are being urged to sign up for St Clare's Winter Walkies fundraiser on Sunday, January 29. The 5km sponsored dog walk starts at the hospice in Hastingwood at 10.30am and follows a route around the local countryside.

Walkers will be given soup and rolls at the end of the walk while dogs will receive treats and a medal. There will also be a prize for the person wearing the best wellies.

Entry costs £10 per adult, £5 per child or £27.50 per family (two adults, two children). To register online or download an entry form, visit www.stclarehospice.org.uk.

Council cuts carbon footprint and saves £246,000

HARLOW Council has been recognised for using green technology to significantly reduce its energy consumption.

The Carbon Trust has presented the authority with a certificate to mark its achievements over the past year after four council buildings were given improved energy efficiency scores.

Combined energy use at the Civic Centre, the Playhouse, the Latton Bush Centre and the Leah Manning Centre has been reduced following the installation of extra insulation, voltage optimisation boxes and 'smart' air handling units.

In addition, staff have been encouraged to become more energy-conscious while at work.

The initiatives have seen the council cut its carbon emissions by 164 tonnes and save £246,000 on its annual energy bill.

Tony Hall, the council's portfolio holder for environment, said: "As a major employer in Harlow it is important we lead by example when it comes to reducing the town's carbon footprint and we are doing just that."

"Our building managers and staff have worked really hard to ensure they only use the energy they need and they all have programmes in place to ensure that this continues to improve in future."

The council is now working to add the carbon footprint from waste and water usage in its calculations and has agreed a five-year programme of energy savings targets with the trust to achieve a 25 per cent reduction in emissions by 2015/16.

"Being energy efficient is both good for the environment and helps save council taxpayers' money," said Cllr Hall.

"We will continue to do what we can to reduce our carbon use as well as support local businesses and residents to do their bit."

Drama group fears redundancy threat

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertssexnews.co.uk

A STRUGGLING performing arts group has been dealt another blow after discovering one of its county council-funded support workers faces redundancy.

The future of the Harlow-based Livewire Trust, a free drama project bringing young people together in the community, was already hanging in the balance after its main sources of funding were cut by Essex County Council last year.

But the group is now facing further problems after one of the charity's long-standing support workers learned their job was set to be axed by the authority's youth services department.

Livewire Trust chair Michaela Dunlea said she was disappointed not to have been consulted about the plans, which would leave the group unable to continue unless an externally-funded replacement worker could be found.

"Not only will the support worker be greatly missed but their loss from the group will also pose some serious health and safety issues for us in regards to the legal ratio requirements of adults to children," she told the Star this week.

"We cannot afford to hire a replacement and though we could probably find volunteers it must be people able to deal with our more vulnerable members."

"If we'd had some kind of warning sooner we could have planned sharing staff but we now only have a couple of months to find a way through."

Harlow councillor Joel Charles, who along with MP Robert Halfon has

WORRIED:

the Livewire Trust

pledged his support to the group, branded ECC's plan "unacceptable".

"As soon as we heard about this both Robert and I approached ECC to challenge this decision," said Cllr Charles. "Livewire is one of the few free groups in the town that engage young people in a positive way and both Robert and I feel it is essential to preserve it."

"ECC's response so far has seemed positive and we will continue to support the group in whatever way we can."

Mr Halfon added: "I have been to see Livewire in action and it is an incredible organisation doing a huge amount for Harlow young people.

"Over the past week I have had discussions with County Hall and I am doing everything I can to persuade Essex County Council to continue funding for Livewire."

"So far they have confirmed that there will be no immediate cut in funding, although they have said the economy will be very difficult over 2012. That is why it is really important that we keep the pressure up and show support for youth services in Harlow."

Stephen Castle, ECC's cabinet member for education, confirmed the authority was currently reassessing recruitment in the youth service but stressed final decisions on potential redundancies had not yet been made.

"No decisions on the future of any Essex Youth Service provision after March 31, 2012 have yet been made and we will be consulting with local community representatives before priorities are agreed," he added.

"In addition, the service will be seeking to work with voluntary and community groups to ensure provision for young people is available in as many other locations as possible."

Scary by name but looks can be deceiving

PUPILS were on their best behaviour when a motivational speaker calling himself The Scary Guy visited Harlow on Tuesday. Standing over 6ft tall and weighing in at 20 stone, the heavily tattooed former US gang member addressed students from Passmores and Burnt Mill Academies. He told them experiences from his own life to discourage young people from getting involved with gangs and other destructive groups. The Scary Guy, who is spending the week visiting schools across the county in conjunction with Essex Police, drilled home a message about the harm caused by bullying, explaining why young people need to put their prejudices aside.

Burnt Mill deputy head Charlie McCarthy said: "He really grabbed our attention and made everyone think about prejudice in our world. "Our students have been inspired today. They will go on to work in lessons on how we can eliminate hate and prejudice in our world." Pictured with The Scary Guy is Jakub Krihak. (photo: HAR0796198)

Workshops to give tips on starting in business

WOULD-be entrepreneurs can pick up some useful tips about starting their own business at a series of workshops hosted by Harlow Council.

Run by tutors from the Government's Revenue and Customs service, the 18 sessions cover topics ranging from the basics of working for yourself and how VAT operates to doing business abroad.

Councillor Russell Perrin, portfolio holder for regeneration and enterprise, said: "These workshops cover crucial basics for new starters in business, so I'd urge those interested to come along. They're free of charge, too."

He added: "Harlow has a 126-acre Enterprise Zone which offers a range of incentives for companies to set up here."

The sessions are being held at the Civic Centre in the Water Gardens, starting next Thursday (January 19) at 11am with a three-hour workshop focusing on online self-assessment.

115 drivers fail breath test during crackdown

MORE than 100 motorists failed to heed police warnings about drink-driving over the Christmas and new year period.

Of the 3,893 drivers stopped and breathalysed in Essex between December 1 and January 1, a total of 115 (2.95 per cent) were found to be driving over the legal alcohol limit, refused to take a test or failed to provide a sample.

Of those, 30 (26 per cent) were under the age of 25 and 85 (74 per cent) over 25. The vast majority – 97 – were men with only 18 (women failing the test).

The results show a slight percentage increase compared to the 2010 campaign during which 145 of the 4,995 drivers tested (2.9 per cent) tested positive or refused or failed to provide a sample.

on Christmas Day on suspicion of drink-driving appeared in court on Boxing Day and was disqualified from driving for 42 months and given a 200-hour community order.

Adam Pipe, casualty reduction manager for Essex Police, said the end of the campaign did not mean police would relax their efforts to bring drivers who flout the law to justice.

"Although our Christmas campaign has now come to an end, we will not tolerate drink or drug-driving and deal with it robustly every day of the year," he said.

"It is always disappointing to see that some drivers still consider themselves to be above the law by getting behind the wheel having knowingly consumed too much."

Albie's got an Eye for art

A BUDDING young artist from Harlow enjoyed a brush with fame after one of his paintings was displayed at London's City Hall.

Passmores Academy pupil Albie Barrigan, of Park Close, painted the oil-on-canvas depiction of the London Eye after being given the chance to work one-to-one with professional artist Di Sjöberg following a placement at the Children's Support Centre in Commons Road.

His picture caught the eye of Harlow MP Rob Halfon, who then arranged for the painting to be hung at the Mayor of London's City Hall headquarters on Tuesday.

Annette Lidster, Albie's tutor while at the CSS, said: "When Albie was with us we began to notice a real talent in the graffiti art he was doing to decorate the work he did."

"We were able to praise the pride he took in this skill and encourage him to have that same pride in other aspects of his work, and with his art teacher he was able to open his mind to other types of art forms."

"We are so very proud of Albie, as are his parents and family. Most importantly, Albie is proud of himself and can now see himself as a successful artist."

Mr Halfon said Albie was an inspiration for other youngsters.

"His painting clearly demonstrates an exceptional talent and I am delighted to have been able to arrange for his work of art to go on display at City Hall," he said.

"It seemed such an appropriate place with the real, iconic London Eye featuring just along the South Bank."

Youngsters draw on creativity for Royal Opera House project

HARLOW youngsters showed off their creative strengths when they took part in a Royal Opera House creative partnerships programme. Pupils on placement at the Children's Support Services unit in Commons Road worked closely with professional artists on the Youth Arts Leadership programme to learn more about their own creativity and find ways to take control of their learning. Working one day a week over the period of a term, the group were asked to produce an assortment of artistic pieces to the title

Metamorphoses, including a drama performance and an installation for last month's Royal Opera House's Thurrock Winter Learning Fair.

Jo Smith, creative schools manager for the Royal Opera House Education team, said the students had done a fantastic job.

"It really emphasises the fact that involving young people in arts activities, whatever their personal background or circumstances, is vital in helping them find ways to express themselves and discover a sense of self worth," she added.

65th celebrations a chance to look to town's future

PREPARATIONS for a series of celebrations to mark Harlow's 65th anniversary of being granted New Town status are under way.

Harlow Council is organising a number of initiatives encouraging residents to look back on the town's history and forward to its future.

"This is a unique chance to reflect on our history as a planned New Town and relive the pioneer stories of those who imagined the future of Harlow and those who built it by moving here to make a fresh start," said council leader Andrew Johnson.

"But the 65th celebrations aren't just about indulging in nostalgia; they are also a chance for us to showcase what the next 65 years of Harlow will be about. It is a town with a name for high tech jobs and innovation, rich in its cultural diversity, vibrancy and community spirit, and supported by a flexible and skilled workforce."

The anniversary will see the launch of a new tourist map of little-known Harlow landmarks, the installation of a large '65' sculpture created from archive materials by local artists and the opening of an audio archive of "living history voices" featuring many of the town's original pioneers.

A celebration day in Market Square is also being planned, while a Star-backed competition inviting young people to design a new birthday logo for the town has already taken place. The winner is due to be announced at the end of the month.

Mr Johnson added: "Harlow isn't standing still at 65. We have ongoing plans for development and an Enterprise Zone that will drive job creation.

"This landmark birthday will be the perfect opportunity to talk about those."

Stabbing victim's brother 'in a fog of alcohol' when he assaulted ex-girlfriend

THE brother of a teenager stabbed to death on his doorstep in a bungled robbery attempt six years ago has been jailed for assault.

Chelmsford Crown Court heard that Lenny Empson attacked his former girlfriend Kelly Porter on September 29 last year while staying at her flat, leaving her with a black eye and bruising to her arms, cheek and body.

On Friday, Empson (29), of Arkwrights, Harlow, pleaded guilty to assault causing actual bodily harm and to three breaches of a court-imposed non-molestation order. He was jailed for nine months.

Andrew Jackson, prosecuting, told the court that Empson had been asleep on the sofa when for no apparent reason he tried to strangle Miss Porter.

Mr Jackson said Empson, who had been drinking, later told Miss Porter he had attacked her in the mistaken belief she was the person who had killed his brother Frank in March 2006.

The two men responsible for his death - Steven Pascoe and Jack Harrison - have been in prison since April 2007 after being convicted of manslaughter by a jury following a six-week trial. They were both given indefinite sentences for public protection.

Mr Jackson told the court that Empson and Miss Porter had previously been in a relationship several years earlier which had been marked by violence fuelled by the defendant's "considerable drinking".

The pair had started seeing each other again despite their being in force a 14-month non-molestation imposed at the county court in August 2010, with Empson regularly sleeping on Miss Porter's sofa.

Dominic Benthall, representing Empson, said in mitigation the order had been granted on the basis of a false allegation but Miss Porter had not gone back to court to get it rescinded.

He added that Empson had adhered to the terms of the order but Miss Porter had contacted him after his mother died because she felt sorry for him.

Mr Benthall quoted from Miss Porter's statement to police in which she described Empson as an alcoholic and said: "While I'm scared of him being violent, I still care for him and love him as a friend. I know I need to get away from him but he needs some help."

He added that it was Empson himself who had contacted police after the assault last September.

"He knew that matters had gone too far," said Mr Benthall. "He doesn't remember the breaches. He was in a fog of alcohol."

Scout troop pins hopes on new application for permanent base

SAWBRIDGEWORTH'S Scouts are hoping it will be third time lucky after submitting their latest plans for permanent headquarters.

The troop wants to relocate to a Green Belt site off Reedings Way from its present home in Springhall Road, a move which would bring to an end a 12-year search for a new base.

The latest application is for a purpose-built single-storey hut with a hall, toilets, meeting room and store on land between the River Stort and homes in Kecksy's.

Scout leaders have said the site will provide a facility fit for the 21st century as well as opportunities for outdoor pursuits and other Scouting activities for the town's youth. It will also support its plans to expand to 200-plus members.

A supporting statement said previous failed attempts to relocate - first to Bullfields in 2004 and then Vantorts Close in 2006 - confirmed there was no suitable or available site within the built-up area of the town and that the only remaining option was to move into the Green Belt.

"There is a compelling need for a new Scout hut to secure and strengthen the group," it adds. "The existing facility at Springhall Road is totally inadequate and contained within a building that is not fit for purpose."

"Extensive and lengthy efforts to find an alternative site where a new replacement Scout facility can be provided have failed to deliver this over the last 12 years."

It concludes: "The proposal would not only safeguard the future of this important Scout group but also enable it to make an even greater contribution to the community (through its expansion) and further enhance the important role it plays in improving the lives of lots more young people."

"It would be a significant milestone in the group's history and development if it were able to relocate to the proposed purpose-built headquarters, thereby maintaining and strengthening Scouting within Sawbridgeworth."

A decision on the application will be made by planning authority East Herts District Council at a later date.

Granite memorial to replace stolen plaque

STOLEN: The original bronze memorial plaque

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A NEW plaque honouring the victims of Nazi persecution will be ready in time for this month's Holocaust Memorial Day – a month after callous crooks stole the original bronze memorial.

The granite slab will be fitted in the same spot where the first plaque was prised out of its metal setting in the Holocaust Memorial Garden behind Harlow Study Centre in Waterhouse Moor shortly before Christmas.

The stone, which has been commissioned by Harlow Council, will carry the words of the original plaque, with the addition of the Hebrew word for 'Remember'.

This week council leader Andrew Johnson said he welcomed new Government plans

DESPICABLE

Thieves steal bronze memorial plaque to victims of Holocaust

FLASHBACK: Star, December 29

to introduce tighter regulation of the scrap industry in a bid to clamp down on the spiralling number of metal thefts nationwide.

"There has to be a deterrent to stop what is a deeply disturbing trend," he said. "People who are prepared to steal a plaque honouring the Jewish victims of Nazi persecution are clearly without conscience and are unlikely to be intimidated by a minor fine."

He added: "There are obviously plenty of perfectly respectable scrap metal businesses, but there are clearly others on the margins who are prepared to turn a blind eye.

"If we can stop thieves turning these callous thefts into cash, it will be a powerful deterrent."

Police are still hunting for the thieves responsible for the theft, and anyone with information should contact Harlow Police Station on 101 (or 0300 333 4444 if calling from outside Essex) or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Drink-driver who crashed firm's refuse truck jailed for six months

AN employee who wrecked one of his firm's trucks after crashing it while driving three times over the drink-drive limit has been jailed for six months.

James Diment (27), of London Road, Harlow, admitted charges of aggravated vehicle taking, driving with excess alcohol and driving without a licence and insurance when he appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court on Thursday.

The court heard he had 102 micrograms of alcohol in his breath when he was arrested by police after overturning the £16,000 refuse truck in a field in Epping on September 2 last year.

Diment, who was employed by Blitz Recycling, had been working at North Weald Airfield when he used the truck to take his girlfriend to a pub where he drank five or six vodka and cokes.

Richard Burrington, prosecuting, told the court that after the accident the truck ended up on its side having crashed through a hedge.

"Diment and a female climbed out of the truck and were seen by a resident in the area attempting to recover various items," Mr Burrington told the court. "After wandering off, they returned to attempt to collect some belongings."

"Police arrived at the scene, the female stopped and was spoken to but the defendant ran off and hid in a ditch full of water and reeds. A police dog tracked him there about 400 metres from the crash."

Christina Denny-Persaud, representing the defendant, said in mitigation the pair had gone to the airfield and had been sitting in the cab of the vehicle before Diment drove off to "get something to eat".

She added that the accident happened when Diment attempted to negotiate a bend while driving at speed.

Jailing Diment and banning him from driving for three years, Judge Patrick O'Brien told him: "It was a breach of your employer's trust by taking this vehicle and driving it on a public road after drinking five or six vodka and cokes."

More paying their council bills online or by phone

RESIDENTS are increasingly choosing to pay their council bills online and over the phone, according to new figures from Harlow Council. Demands totalling £238,000 were paid via the internet or automated telephone services during the authority's Christmas shutdown from December 23 to January 3 – an increase of £85,000 on the same period last year.

More than 6,000 unique users also accessed the council's website during the Christmas and new year break, with the most popular pages visited being those detailing revised bin collection dates and job vacancies.

The authority has attributed the jump in online activity to a long-term campaign to encourage residents to do their council business on the internet or over the phone.

Simon Carter, portfolio holder for resources, said both methods were more cost-effective for the authority and more convenient for residents.

"Every week hundreds of people queue up in the Civic Centre to pay bills. Not only does this take time out of a resident's day, it is also expensive for the council."

"There are more convenient ways to pay bills or to access services and as current trends show more residents are staying at home to pay their bills online or to find out information on council services at a time that suits them."

Sports centre closed after storeroom fire

HARLOW Leisurezone had to be evacuated on Thursday evening after a fire broke out in a staff storeroom.

Firefighters called to the complex in Second Avenue shortly before 7pm managed to extinguish the blaze within half-an-hour.

No-one was injured during the incident and the sports centre reopened later in the evening.

A Leisurezone spokeswoman said: "A minor fire was discovered by staff in one of the stores."

"The building was evacuated immediately, the emergency services were called, they attended and the fire was dealt with quickly."

"The fire was of a minor nature, the building was closed for a few hours that evening and Leisurezone opened for business as normal the following morning."

A joint Essex County Fire & Rescue Service and police investigation will now be carried out to establish the cause of the blaze.

Community crimebuster Rox wins second award

ONE of Harlow Council's canine crimebusters has scooped a second "best of breed" award for outstanding performance and discipline.

German Shepherd Rox, part of the council's community ranger patrols, has won the Kennel Club-approved award for the second year running after impressing judges from the Harlow District Dog Training Society.

Rox, who patrols the town's streets every day as part of the service, has already distinguished himself by scaring off potential intruders from Parndon Wood Nature Reserve and, together with his handler, encouraging intimidating groups of youths to move on.

Joel Charles, the council's portfolio holder for community and citizenship, said: "Our open spaces and public areas are there to be enjoyed by everyone."

"Rox is a powerful deterrent to those who sometimes blight our streets and parks through anti-social behaviour. His training means his presence is frequently enough to calm a situation down."

Angry at refuse collection

SIR, I am sure that I am not the only local resident to have a complaint about the refuse collections in Harlow over the Christmas and new year period. This is not the first time that I have had problems with the collections.

I was unaware of the day in which they would come and collect my rubbish bin because I do not have internet access and did not receive a copy of the Star.

This morning I was absolutely furious to discover that they have left my bin unemptied because I failed to walk it the 1½ metres to the end of my path. I now have 2½ weeks worth of rubbish, food and nappies from two young children sitting outside my front door. These will now build up another two weeks worth before they come and collect it again.

It is inconsiderate beyond belief, lazy and down right unhygienic. I would be extremely interested to hear what environmental health would have to say about it to be perfectly honest.

I tried to contact the council but obviously they don't care in the slightest and have told me to take it to the dump myself. How they suppose I should do this I would love to know.

I am absolutely fuming and I will be taking this further as it is simply not acceptable.

Join the community spirit

SIR, One of the highlights of the festive season for many of us in Churchgate Street was the demonstration of community spirit at our inaugural party in St Mary's Church Hall on December 20.

Organised by the residents' association, we were overwhelmed that 208 people of all ages came along to celebrate the season with friends new and old.

We were also astonished at just how little it takes to get a community active – a little publicity, a venue, the promise of some entertainment for the kids and a few willing volunteers to make the tea and clean up. As well as bringing our community together, we raised over £700 which will go into the kitty for our street party to mark the Queen's Diamond Jubilee in June.

We would like to express our thanks to all those who came and to the local businesses who provided prizes for the raffle. We would also like to suggest the Star might play a role in galvanizing community groups around Harlow to start planning their own parties to mark the Diamond Jubilee and ensure that all our children have the opportunity to celebrate this momentous national occasion with their local community.

Churchgate Street residents would be delighted to share our plans in the hope of encouraging others.

The need for yellow lines

SIR, I think it would be a good idea for Harlow Council to get permission from Essex County Council to have double yellow lines put on every bend that leads to a side road in Harlow.

Not all drivers have consideration when it comes to knowing a safe distance when parking their vehicles close to a bend or side turning.

One of the worst junctions for this is the Hookfield turning just off Tawneys Road opposite The Fortunes, due to owners of large vehicles such as vans and people carriers parking right on the bend. This restricts the view of drivers who are pulling out of this junction as well as the view of pedestrians who are crossing over Hookfield to carry on their journey along Tawneys Road.

Don't the traffic wardens come down that far? If yellow lines were to be put there they would have to. There is plenty of ground to turn into parking areas around this vicinity.

Anita Long
Longfield, Harlow

Selective view of the facts

SIR, I feel I must take issue with Tony Hall (Letters, December 29) as he appears to have been rather selective with the political facts of the past 60 years.

CLLr Hall makes claim to Harlow being built by US aid via the Marshall Plan but fails to mention the loan repayments we have been making to the US for the past 60 years for the lease lend loans we had to take out to finance a

Labour has no policies to take town forward

SIR, What was the point of last week's letter from Labour group deputy leader Jean Clark ('Democratic process is our wishful thinking', January 5)? One wonders what is the point of the Labour Party at all.

They have failed to put forward any ideas or policies for three-and-a-half years. They have failed to put forward alternative budgets to show how they would deal with the council's financial mess they left us, nor the financial pressure created by Gordon Brown's massive borrowing spree.

So what is their answer? Consultation to see if anyone else has any ideas because they haven't got any.

They claim we are ignoring democracy and the people, but the Labour Party has a wonderful ability for selective amnesia. Just as they forget it was they who created the massive debts locally and nationally, so they forget we have been consulting over the future of the discretionary services.

They attended the major conference we held in July. They heard of the success of local charities in growing their organisations.

We have listened, we have made proposals and we are negotiating to ensure a sustainable future for these valued services. Labour has no policies for taking our council and our town forward.

The Conservatives are the only party which has the ideas for the council to work smarter and better. We have restored the council's finances, frozen council tax for three years and maintained services.

The Conservatives can prove we have the leadership for a better future.

CLLr Simon Carter (Conservative)
Mark Hall Moors, Harlow

war when we stood alone against Nazi Germany.

Whilst on the subject of the US, let us not forget that rather than this being a Labour-led recession as CLLr Hall would have us believe, it was a world recession which was basically started in the US by banks giving sub prime loans to people who didn't have a chance of paying them back.

As to the £20m legacy that Margaret Thatcher's government left us, it was not the only legacy she and her government were responsible for. There was also the virtual total destruction of our manufacturing industry, relying instead on the service industries of insurance and banking (and I don't think I need to explain what that led to).

I was born here and have lived in this town for the past 60 years and although I can't say everything a Labour-controlled council has done has been right, I do know that Harlow has gone rapidly downhill since the present administration took over.

Labour councils have constantly had to fight against budget caps from Conservative central government but despite this they managed to keep flowerbeds tidy, cycle tracks cleaned and maintained to a decent standard and did not waste money on civic dinners or parades or create the ridiculous mess that is in the Market Square.

Is it a "caring" council that cuts funding to the welfare and rights advice service used by some of the most vulnerable people in the town?

I don't deny facts, I just like to know them all.

Terry Mackay

Judge for yourselves

SIR, Tony Hall and Stan Newens seem unable to agree what Harlow Council achieved or neglected in past years.

When I retired the council asked me if I would write up an account of the first 30 years. My book, A Civic History of Harlow Council 1955-1985, was completed entirely from council records, reports, minutes, leaflets etc so it is a definitive history of that period and should help anyone wishing to make a judgement.

Copies are still available from the Star office in West Gate, the Museum of Harlow or from myself.

Care of the highest order

SIR, In these times of financial crisis and concerns about the care of the elderly, I would like to write in praise of Princess Alexandra Hospital.

I am currently 83 years of age and since March 2010 I have been admitted to the cardiac unit on Fleming Ward on five separate occasions. On each occasion I have received care of the highest order from a dedicated team of doctors, nurses and domestic staff.

They offer cheerful care and provide full attention to the needs of all of the patients on the ward. In addition, the standards of general cleanliness and hygiene are excellent.

I would like to offer my heartfelt thanks to the staff for all of the treatment and support I have received there.

More tales from the classroom...

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ANOTHER former Spring Hills School pupil has been in touch after being alerted by friends on Facebook that he had been spotted in the paper.

David King (45), who now lives in of Cheshire, said the picture of Ms Brenda Cotton's class sent to Nostalgia by Stan Nevill had caused quite a stir on the social networking site.

"It was ex-classmate Tracey Usher – the girl in the middle of the second from top row in a colourful striped top – who first told me I was in the Star," said David.

"Then everyone started talking about it. It has caused quite a commotion among old pupils."

David, now a father to three, is pictured fourth from the right in the front row. He said he has fond memories of his time at the primary school.

"Most of us loved it so much we would go back to the school hall every Thursday evening for a Woodcraft group," he said.

"We would pay 2p weekly subs and then run ourselves ragged for an hour or so. It was a chance for most parents to have a break, although mine were the leaders so they didn't benefit quite so much!"

According to David he was a bit of a rebel during his time at Spring Hills. "I got the slipper quite a lot from the headmaster Mr Joudrey," he recalled. "I still thought he was a smashing guy, though, and everyone liked him."

"I also remember in my very first year in Mrs Ganapathy's class – another teacher everyone loved – that there was a Wendy house in her classroom."

"It was very popular with us boys because it seemed to be the place to meet all the girls. Kiss chase was also a common game played in the playground."

It was a particular gesture for the girls by David and his friends that he thinks made the most lasting impression.

"I remember me, John Nevill (top row, fourth from the right), Steve Williams (top row, second from the right) and Tony Smith (bottom row, second from the left) used to pretend we were Slade," he said. "We'd sing their songs and perform with our air guitars in the playground. I'm not sure they were that impressed though!"

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Theatre van roadshow

IT seems the journey of The Playhouse's 1980s Theatre van roadshow continues – this time through the pages of Nostalgia.

Christine Clarke, who sent in the roadshow poster, has been back in touch with some of the photographs she took at one of the performances.

"I first caught a glimpse of the show in town and thought it looked really good, so I grabbed my camera from home, jumped on my bike and followed it to its next stop," said Christine, of Ash Tree Field.

"It made several stops throughout the town. I went and watched it at Sherards Hatch where it had drawn quite a crowd."

"The show was all about recycling and helping the environment which, when you think about it, was really quite ahead of its time."

Christine remembers it being a good show.

"I had always been interested in saving and reusing things so I found it both really informative and entertaining," she said. "The actors were also very good."

She added: "Perhaps some more of those actors will recognise themselves in these pictures and get in touch, like Mandy Jacobs did before. It would be really great to hear their stories."

25 years ago in the Star

Practice sessions for next month's 'tubeathon' world record attempt at Harlow Pool are well under way. Assuming 1,000 tube rides are completed during the 24-hour event, those taking part will have raced 187 miles in total – a trip from Harlow to Liverpool – and climbed 198,000 steps which is equal to scaling Everest four times!

About 1,000 cinema-goers had to be turned away from the Odeon over the weekend when Crocodile Dundee came to town. The new Australian film starring Paul Hogan took over £13,000 in ticket sales in its first three days.

The first pantomime to be staged at St John's Arts and Recreation Centre has been declared a hit with audiences young and old. The three performances of Gertrude's Dilemma were such a success that the group has agreed to stage another Christmas show next year – though not necessarily a pantomime.

A night out in Hertford for a Harlow couple went horribly wrong when their car was locked in a town centre car park. They parked in the Bircherley Green multi-storey but were furious to find that when they returned the car park had been locked for the night. They are demanding East Herts Council pay the £14 taxi fee they paid to get home.

Church is a giant igloo

A CHURCH made entirely from ice and snow has been built in a remote German village.

Residents of Mitterfirmiansreut, a mountain community near the country's border with the Czech Republic, helped build the remarkable 20 metre-long structure as a tribute to their ancestors.

A similar snow church was built in the same town 100 years ago as an act of protest by villagers who were unhappy with having to travel 90 minutes by foot to get to the nearest church.

Local churchman Kajetan Steinbeisse explained: "It was meant as an act of provocation. Believers from the village got together and built a snow church because they didn't have a church here."

The new structure is more than 20 metres long and boasts a tower and eight-metre high steeple. It can hold up to 200 people although it is unlikely that mass, weddings and baptisms will take place there.

The church will remain open - mainly as a tourist attraction - until the spring when warmer temperatures will cause the blocks of ice and snow to melt.

HEALTH CHECK in partnership with the PAH NHS Trust*Feeling ill? Then follow treatment pecking order

DID you hear the one about the man who went to A&E because he got blisters from new shoes? It may sound like a joke but it is a true story.

In fact research has shown that a quarter of all people who go to an A&E department do not need to be there, either because they could have been treated elsewhere or because they did not need any treatment at all.

At Princess Alexandra Hospital there are many thousands of such cases each year. This creates particular problems in the winter when colder weather triggers higher demand.

That is why the local NHS is running a 'Choose Well' campaign, which is designed to help people to understand the most appropriate way of having their needs met. The campaign establishes a clear pecking order for types of treatment:

● SELF-CARE: For coughs, head colds and other minor ailments, the best option for most people is to look after themselves by staying warm and taking medication which can be bought over the counter.

● NHS DIRECT: If you become unwell or injured and are unsure which NHS service is right for you, guidance is always available from NHS Direct on 0845 46 47.

● PHARMACIST: Many people forget that local pharmacists are highly-skilled professionals who are readily available to give health-related advice without an appointment.

● GP: GPs are the natural first port of call for medical help. Even when the local surgery is closed, out-of-hours GP cover is always available.

● A&E: The last resort and only for patients who are seriously unwell or injured.

Choosing the right option matters because getting it wrong can cause major inconvenience, waste the time of doctors and nurses, cost a lot of money and even put other patients at risk.

Every time someone goes to A&E and is discharged without needing further treatment, the cost to the NHS is £124. Even more serious is the potential impact on patients who have a genuine need for A&E services.

The number of emergency ambulances arriving at Princess Alexandra Hospital has grown by more than 10 per cent in the past year. Emergency admissions are also up, confirming that the hospital is seeing more serious cases.

Because of the increased workload, A&E staff cannot afford to spend time dealing with non-urgent patients who do not need to be there.

During winter months this can place major pressure on emergency departments, leading to much longer waiting times for people with low-priority problems.

Turning up at hospital with a minor illness also raises the risk of passing it on to weaker patients for whom the infection could be dangerous. That is why those with flu-like symptoms, diarrhoea or vomiting should not attend A&E or outpatient clinics.

So the message to the people of Harlow is this – by choosing well, you can help your NHS stay healthy too!

Beat the Big Chill

Stop water pipes from bursting this winter by keeping them snug.

Last year in a single day, Veolia Water received 1,600 calls from local families with frozen or burst pipes at home.

You can stop this happening to your home by lagging your pipes – it's quick, easy and cheap to do.

You wouldn't expose yourself to the elements, so look after your internal pipes too. Don't get caught out, visit

www.veoliawater.co.uk/coldweather

and beat the BIG chill

Your stars with Patrick Arundell

to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
The emphasis since the turn of the year for you Aries has been very much on ambitions, but in achieving these, the chances are you've been actively networking, to help you to reveal opportunities. Now with Mercury moving alongside Pluto you can concentrate your thinking about how you can act out your goals. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
A very romantic week is possible, but even if there is no obvious potential partner in your situation, this won't stop you from visualizing the idealized type of partner that you'd like. In a settled tie, try to recreate the spark that was within it at its outset. This may take some imagination, but do try Libra. Call me for your love scope in full...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
This week's Full Moon asks you not to charge into situations without careful planning and forethought. This would be especially so if you do have an impulsive or a "speak now, sort out later" side to your nature. At work, someone may promise the earth, but do some careful background research on what they really have to offer. Call for more...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
You can be a mixture of hyper-sensitive and outspoken this week Scorpio. The trick will be to know exactly where and when to put the two together, otherwise you could speak out about something you are confused or unsure about, or stand firm on an assumption, which later turns out to be completely incorrect. Call your prediction line for more...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Venus goes side by side the mystical energies of Neptune. This is perfect for exploring your holiday options for this year, and the more off the beaten track or exotic, the happier you'll be. However, if you are buying anything on-line, proceed cautiously. Your financial situation could also go through further changes. Call for more news...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Your words can have a big impact on someone you talk to. Just how? Well you can enchant a potential love interest or completely baffle a practical person. In any kind of financial discussion it's vital to base your conversation on hard facts and figures. If you try to fudge or bluff, it will create a poor impression. Call for your love scope in full...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Mercury moves into your opposite sign this week, but that can be an entirely positive thing. Cancer, because it can help you to be more detached and logical around your interactions with others. Well, that's the theory...With Neptune being joined by Venus, one situation or person, may seem even more mysterious. Call for more advice...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
Mercury joins your sign and merges with the potent influence of Pluto. You can become more driven to succeed and more single minded. However, when it comes to your diet, you could find it rather difficult to resist desserts and confectionary. If you do have some splurges, balance this with some sensible meals. Call for more news and advice...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
If you need to be clear headed about practical issues, Mercury moving side by side with Pluto will help you to penetrate into what is really worthwhile and meaningful. Just don't be too hard edged around relationship matters. A touch of magic is possible, but you may be best to wait a while before deciding. Call me for your love scope...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
If you need to look deeply into a situation, this week may help. Yet with Venus and Neptune forging a shimmering combination there may be some elements which are more difficult to comprehend - especially around your love life. If you feel unsure of what to do, it may be best to wait a while before deciding. Call me for your love scope...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
2012 is going to provide a unique opportunity for you to demonstrate just how talented you are. How are you doing so far? If you seem to be hitting the usual obstacles of disinterested banks, a busy boss, or just the framework of modern life, look again. Your ruler Mercury arrives to supercharge your efforts. Call for more news and advice...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
You could get some great ideas about what you want for your future, and be able to take some steps towards achieving these. One very personal issue may be more of a muddle. This may relate to a secret, the framework of modern life, or one someone shares. If need be, reach out to a friend you trust, for some insights. Call me for your in-depth forecast...

Dance school auditions for anniversary special

By CHRIS MOSS

A HARLOW dance school is limbering up for its 10th birthday celebrations by auditioning for scores of new recruits ahead of a spectacular anniversary showcase later this year.

Hip Hop Pop, based at Harlow Playhouse, is on the lookout for almost 80 budding dancers and singers keen to strut their stuff on the theatre's main stage in October.

The group will be hosting open auditions at the theatre on January 28 for performers aged between 6 and 40 who believe they have what it takes to dazzle audiences on the night.

The 'best-of' show will feature excerpts from past productions as well as new routines. Once it has been cast, rehearsals will start in earnest at the end of next month.

Main cast members will be required most Sundays and the occasional Wednesday evening in the run-up to the main event.

School owner Jenny Bater told the Star: "I can't believe 10 years have gone so quickly!"

"We have so many experiences and achievements to boast about, including performing for the UK's top Michael Jackson tribute artist, touring the UK and abroad and producing students of scholarship standard."

"We are all so excited to produce this spectacular to celebrate Hip Hop Pop's success and we want the community involved. Please come along to the audition if you love to dance!"

Singers attending auditions on January 28 will need to arrive by 2pm and have solo songs prepared. Dance hopefuls will be asked to learn choreographed routines on the day and perform in small groups between noon and 2pm.

For more information, contact Jenny on 07817 774757 or log on to www.hiphoppop.co.uk.

Record-breaking panto fills the box office tills

PANTASTIC! That's the verdict after Harlow Playhouse pantomime Peter Pan broke box office records during its month-long run.

A total of 17,529 people saw the star-studded show, generating receipts of $246,166 and smashing the previous record set last year.

The theatre believes the boost in audience numbers has come from its ability to draw people from outside of Harlow, notably from the Epping Forest and Bishop's Stortford areas.

Peter Pan, which ran from December 2-January 2, starred Chris Ellison (DCI Burnside from ITV police drama The Bill) and CBeebies' Jacob Scipio as well as students from Harlow College, Academy Arts Theatre School and Jacqui Ison Theatre Arts.

Show director Guy Pascall, of producers Enchanted Entertainment, said: "We have been producing pantomimes for 12 years and this was probably the best one we've done, not only from the perspective of the quality of the show and the audience reaction to it but also the financial success it enjoyed."

"Everything really clicked. I had a very good feeling about the show from the moment we started the rehearsals; the cast were fantastic and really gelled."

Theatre manager Scott Ramsay added: "It's great to have had yet another record-breaking year. Since 2008 our panto audience has grown by 55 per cent, despite the doom and gloom of the wider economy."

"We've worked with five partners this year - Enchanted Entertainment, Academy Arts, Jacqui Ison Theatre Arts, the Harvey Centre and Harlow College - and it proved to be a huge success. Once again, we saw a large number of new visitors to the Playhouse."

Next up for Enchanted will be a family musical production of classic fairytale Rapunzel, to be staged at The Playhouse at Easter.

"We're really excited about doing Rapunzel," said Guy. "The Disney film Tangled, which used the Rapunzel story, has been massively successful so there's a big audience out there who like the story."

Rapunzel runs from April 3-8 and tickets are available now from the box office on (01279) 431945 or www.playhouseharlow.com.

Another epic blockbuster from the Spielberg stable

WAR HORSE
certificate 12A, 2h26m

THE casualties of war extend far beyond the terrible loss of human life.

During the First World War, thousands of pigeons carried vital messages over long distances when other lines of communication were compromised. Dogs detected mines and dug out victims of bomb blasts while millions of horses, donkeys and mules carried supplies and ammunition or charged into battle in the Allied cavalry.

A dramatic memorial in London, sculpted from stone and brass by artist David Backhouse, pays tribute to the fallen creatures, great and small. And author Michael Morpurgo expressed his debt of gratitude in his children's novel War Horse, which has been adapted into a breathtaking stage production on both sides of the Atlantic.

Now Steven Spielberg directs this Oscar-tipped film version of Morpurgo's heartrending tale from a script by Richard Curtis and Lee Hall.

Alcohol-soaked farmer Ted Narracott (Peter Mullan) pays over the odds for a foal called Joey to spite landlord Lyons (David Thewlis) when he is supposed to be buying a plough horse. His long-suffering wife Rose (Emily Watson) wonders how they will pay the rent, while son Albert (Jeremy Irvine) promises to train the animal to work the fields.

But when Europe goes to war, Ted sells Joey to Captain Nicholls (Tom Hiddleston), who promises to take good care of the horse. Albert subsequently learns of tragedy on the battlefield and enlists in the army with best friend Andrew (Matt Milne) to track down Joey and return the horse to the farm.

Meanwhile, behind enemy lines, Joey is captured by the Germans and embarks on a momentous journey in the company of a young soldier called Gunther (David Kross) and a French girl (Celine Buckens) and her grandfather (Niels Arestrup).

War Horse is a deeply moving and sweeping drama that harnesses Spielberg's virtuosity behind the camera. He conjures up some breathtaking images; scenes in the trenches recall the pyrotechnic-laden hell of Saving Private Ryan and a pivotal scene of Joey ensnared in barbed wire during the battle of The Somme is genuinely horrifying.

Irvine is an endearing and steadfast hero who is willing to die for his beloved horse, while the supporting cast embraces the script's earthy humour and sentimentality.

Invariably, the four-legged stars canter away with our tear-stained affections, beautifully embodying the millions of noble beasts which gave their lives for our freedom.

The Iron Lady

A sketchy portrait of the UK's first female prime minister as she looks back over her life from the comfort of her lodgings at Chester Square in London's swanky Belgravia. Baroness Thatcher (Meryl Streep) juggles a busy social diary with the help of assistants and her daughter Carol (Olivia Colman). Comforted by the ghost of her late husband, Denis (Jim Broadbent), she allows her mind to wander back to the 1984 IRA bombing of the Grand Hotel in Brighton during the Conservative Party conference, the Falklands war and her downfall precipitated by a critical speech from Geoffrey Howe (Anthony Head) in front of appalled fellow Cabinet ministers.

Mission Impossible: Ghost Protocol Ethan Hunt (Tom Cruise) is sprung from a Russian jail by fellow agents Jane Carter (Paula Patton) and Benji Dunn (Simon Pegg). They are ordered to break into the Kremlin to steal intelligence files that reveal the identity of a terrorist codenamed

Cobalt but the mission turns sour when madman Hendricks (Michael Nyqvist) detonates a bomb inside the building to cover up the theft of Russian nuclear launch codes. Disavowed by the US government, Ethan, Jane, Benji and top analyst William Brandt (Jeremy Renner) must operate outside of official channels to apprehend Hendricks before he can initiate nuclear Armageddon

Sherlock Holmes: A Game Of Shadows

With newspapers filled with shocking headlines about anarchist bombings in Strasbourg and Vienna, the apparent overdose of a Chinese opium dealer and the death of an American steel magnate, Sherlock Holmes (Robert Downey Jr) deduces they are all linked to Professor James Moriarty (Jared Harris) and persuades his trusty sidekick Dr John Watson (Jude Law) to go on one last globetrotting adventure.

Alvin & The Chipmunks: Chipwrecked Dave (Jason Lee) heads off on a luxury cruise with Alvin (voiced by Justin Long), Simon (Matthew Gray Gubler) and Theodore (Jesse McCartney) and the feisty Chipettes - Britney (Christina Applegate), Eleanor (Amy Poehler) and Jeanette (Anna Faris). As usual, Alvin gets into various scrapes, incurring the wrath of the ship's captain and former manager Ian (David Cross), who is working as the ship's entertainer. While Dave takes a nap, Alvin and the gang take flight on a kite and are blown onto a tropical island with an active volcano. While the chipmunks return to nature, Dave and Ian race against time to rescue the animals from their new home before it is covered in molten lava.

Puss In Boots

Young Puss (voiced by Antonio Banderas) is abandoned at an orphanage where kind Imelda (Constance Marie) raises the kitten as her own. Initially picked on by the boys, Puss learns to fight to survive and helps protect fellow outcast Humpty Alexander Dumpty (Zach Galifianakis). Many years later, the surrogate brothers join forces with sultry pickpocket Kitty Softpaws (Salma Hayek) to steal magic beans which are rumoured to grow a beanstalk that leads to the giant's castle and the greatest treasure of all: the Golden Goose.

Lower Meadow

£139,995

One of the most effective ways to maximise your property investment is to appeal to sharers (maximum 2) as the combined price paid by two or three co-tenants can often be greater than the rent paid by just one.

As renting has emerged as a highly attractive alternative to buying for some people, so rents have risen. This in turn has priced out those who want to live somewhere reasonable, but who simply could not stretch to their ideal property without going halves with a friend (or even a stranger in many instances where we have been able to put willing tenants together!)

We are therefore often approached by sharers and we recommend that landlords embrace the concept. It certainly opens up the number of prospective tenants willing to pay top market rent, as the contribution of each is smaller. Importantly we are usually able to administer things so that each tenant becomes jointly and severally liable for the whole of the rent and the condition of your property. This means that if one tenant fails to pay, you can look to the other tenant/s as well, thereby halving your risk. Tenants are also more likely to look after your property if they are accountable to their friends as well as you.

One thing to consider when appealing to sharers, especially if you are converting a property in preparation for rental, is to aim for bedrooms of a similar size. Also, it is often preferable to have a larger kitchen at the expense of a smaller sitting room, thereby allowing sharers to do their own thing rather than always having to watch TV together!

Please feel free to contact one of our investment property experts on 01279 444988 for advice on how best to prepare your property to let - we might also have a tenant, or sharers, waiting for a property like yours, so you can see a return on your investment from day one.

Cutting costs but not quality

By Matt Kimberley

SOME cars are designed to be jacks of all trades but even though they're rarely masters of any one, the reality is that most of us, especially company car drivers, need a car that does one particular thing better than any other.

Company car nirvana is fashioned by a combination of low CO<sub>2</sub> emissions and levels of comfort that make cloud nine feel like a Victorian school chair. The bills have got to be low and the mile-eating talent has got to be high.

Plenty of space for passengers and luggage is important, though. After all, most company cars are basically private cars at the weekend. But the key is for the car to be quiet, comfortable, stable and cheap to own.

With that in mind, here's the new Toyota Avensis. While it's not entirely new, it has a much prettier face and a host of improvements under the skin that, on the best-selling diesel model, add up to a promise of the lowest running costs in its class.

In fact, Toyota reckons that its three-year running costs are £2,000 cheaper than before.

The most popular 2.0-litre D-4D powerplant, accounting for two-thirds of the previous Avensis generation's sales, has been heavily updated with a smaller, more efficient turbo.

It links with new engine mapping and improved cold start

FACT file

Toyota Avensis 2.0 D-4D TR

PRICE
£21,525
on the road

Engine: 2.0-litre turbodiesel producing 124bhp
Transmission: 6-speed manual driving the front wheels
Performance: Top speed 124mph, 0-62mph in 9.7 seconds
Economy: 62.8mpg
CO<sub>2</sub> Rating: 119g/km characteristics, allowing a faster warm-up process that wastes less energy than before in the name of better fuel efficiency. The bottom line is 119g/km of CO<sub>2</sub> – down from 139g/km in the old model – and a claimed 62.8mpg with a gentle mix of driving.

Soundproofing in the cabin has been improved with acoustic dampening material extended into new areas in an attempt to keep the new Avensis as quiet as possible. It works, too, with road noise being very hushed even at 75mph or so, albeit on smooth French motorways.

There's a bit of wind noise around the wing mirrors and A-pillars, but it's probably only noticeable because the car is so quiet a cruiser otherwise.

The 124bhp diesel can get a bit noisy under power though, and the test car's engine still felt tight with only 500 miles under its wheels from new, but it's clear that its power and torque delivery are both more linear than in the old model, as per Toyota's intent.

This might actually be the last 2.0-litre Toyota diesel engine that sees production in the Avensis. A recent agreement will soon see Toyota cars in Europe being fitted with 1.6- and 2.0-litre BMW diesels, which will provide even more attractive CO<sub>2</sub> and fuel economy figures.

A slick six-speed manual gearbox is standard on this engine; an automatic is only available with the much thirstier, more polluting 2.2-litre D-CAT diesel. Company car drivers would be financially better off with the manual, but if maximum space is your wish then the Tourer (estate) version of the 2.0 D-4D model is in the same road tax band as the saloon, pushing out 120g/km of CO<sub>2</sub>.

Efficiency figures like these qualify the new car for cheap running costs relative to the other 2.0-litre diesel company car options out there for similar money. Another nod in its favour is the outstanding standard kit list, which features a lot more than you might expect.

On all but the ultra-basic T2 spec level, Toyota's amusingly-named Touch & Go touch-screen satellite navigation system is standard. It's a good system, even if it does struggle to pronounce some street names, and it should be a huge pull for county-crossing company drivers. The same goes for a rear-view camera, 17-inch alloy wheels, automatic headlights and windscreen wipers, cruise control, electric driver's seat lumbar adjustment and a bundle of other convenient extras. It's all standard on TR spec and above.

It makes for a convincing turn of value, with the key 2.0-litre D-4D TR model carrying the same price tag as the old, less well-equipped one.

Toyota's claims of much-improved driving dynamics are exaggerated. The revised chassis feels stiff, stable and strong, but there isn't much feel. A slightly quickened steering rack is, however, a welcome change that should mean less wheel-twirling in tight corners.

The point of the new Avensis is to be a better company car than ever. That's where Toyota hopes to find the bulk of its sales and why many of the techy touches, like access to Google local search, are directed particularly at high-mileage business drivers. The spacious rear passenger area and obvious high-build quality make it a great family car as well.

It's a better cruiser than before and it's significantly cheaper to run than its older self. It succeeds exactly where it needs to, with excellent cruising comfort and a first-rate list of standard gadgets, so despite it being a master of one trade above all others, it makes perfect sense to the right people.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Teacher of MFL (Spanish & French) Maternity Cover Required: Mid February 2012

Passmores Academy is a success story; we have been consistently in the top 100 improved schools and we achieve this by successfully innovating and leading from the edge with vertical tutor groups, a flexible curriculum and a vibrant house system all creating a buzz and this provides an exciting opportunity for all staff to develop a wide range of skills and experiences. No doubt the recent TV series will show that we are a child centric school.

We are now happily in our £23 million new building that provides an environment that our students deserve. We are designated as a National Support school and this means that we are supporting other schools to raise standards too.

OFSTED visited us in November 2008 and decided that Passmores was an Outstanding School, the first time a school has been given this judgement in the town. We were also been deemed a High Performing Specialist School and are the named lead school for A, G and T in the area. We are proud of what we have achieved and continue to strive to become even better.

If you think you are up to the challenge of working in a school that works and plays together, do not hesitate to apply to join the team.

Applications will be accepted by letter, completion of Essex County Council Application Form and a detailed CV to the Principal citing two references.

Further information about our school and to download the application form available on our website www.passmoresacademy.com or call 01279 7708000

Closing Date: Tuesday 24th January 2012

Public Notices

Public Notices

ANNOUNCEMENT OF INTENTION NOT TO PREPARE AN ENVIRONMENTAL STATEMENT (Regulation 5 of the Environmental Impact Assessment (Land Drainage Improvement Works) Regulations 1999 as amended by SI 2005/1399 and SI 2006/618

Improvements to the Stort at Italstyle and Harlowbury Brook at The Oxleys

The Environment Agency gives notice that it proposes to carry out improvement works on two sites in Harlow. The work will take place on the River Stort in Old Harlow (NGR TL 47226 12962) adjacent to the access bridge into Italstyle, CM20 2HE and on the Harlowbury Brook (NGR TL 47974 11743) to the north of the bridge that provides access to The Oxleys from Watlington Road, CM17 0EH.

The proposed improvement works at each site will involve constructing steps down the bank to create safe access in to the rivers.

We will also install a gate in a fence at the Harlowbury Brook site.

The Environment Agency considers that the improvement works are not likely to have significant effects on the environment and does not intend to prepare an environmental statement in respect of them. However, the Environment Agency has a duty under the Environment Act (1995) to assess the environmental effects of its work and as the works fall under the Environmental Impact Assessment (Land Drainage Improvement Works) Regulations 1999, as amended, a non-statutory EIA is being undertaken. An EIA Summary File note has been produced and is available for viewing during office hours by contacting the project manager for the works at the address below.

Any person wishing to make representations in relation to the likely environmental effects of the proposed improvement works should do so, in writing, to the address specified below, within 28 days of the date of publication of this notice.

Black belt twin girls double up

TWIN sisters Sky and Paige Mulvey were among a group of students from Harlow's Shinseikyu Karate Academy who passed a stern grading of their abilities to become prestigious black belt holders.

Four students passed their shodan (black belt) grading which consisted of kihon (basics), renraku (combinations), kumite (fighting), kata (pre-arranged sequences) and hunbi undo (supplementary drills/exercises), as well as a thesis on various aspects of karate practice.

&gt;&gt;&gt;martial arts

The grading lasted for three hours and all students were tested on technique, power, ability and awareness.

Five different types of kumite were demonstrated, the last being Irumi (unrestricted) with no rules on hitting your opponent.

The students all had to break 10 roofing tiles in one go with any technique they chose. This is known as tamishiwara.

All were successful in this aspect of the grading.

Along with 13-year-old twins Sky and Paige, Tommy Judd (13) and Elliott Preater (18) also passed their Shodan.

The grading panel consisted of Sensei Jeff Bessent, Sensei Neil Methven and Sensei Tairo

Shindo, while Sensei Shindo – a member of the Japanese Kyokushinkai knockdown – was a guest examiner.

Sensei Bessent said: "Both Sky and Paige have been doing karate here since they were six. Elliott started about five years ago. They've all done very well."

Thrilling end to busy year for anglers

&gt;&gt;&gt;angling

STORT Valley Angling Society members brought their successful 2011 campaign to a close with a busy season-ending finale.

Firstly, secretary of the Harlow-based club, Bob Groom, lifted the annual Stort Cup with a mixed bag of bream, roach and perch for 9lbs 1oz.

Roy Deadman and Danny Cruse filled second and third spots with hauls of 5lbs 1oz and 4lbs 4ozs respectively.

Top junior with his best-ever tenth of 3lbs in a fine net of 3lbs 11ozs was Ryan Head.

Meanwhile, a fine bag of carp helped Kevin Shaw lift the silverware at an event in Clavering with a whopping 63lbs 1oz.

Ray Hickman netted 35lbs 5ozs in second place.

Ryan Head was again top junior. The final coach outing of the year saw 18 members travel to March town centre in Cambridgeshire.

A haul of 11lbs 13ozs was Danny Cruse's winning bag, with Bill Beehan and Bob Groom taking the minor places.

Ryan Head maintained his phenomenal form by landing 2lbs 9ozs to cap another successful outing for this fine prospect.

Gary Cruse lifted the Senior KO Cup with brother Danny successful in the Poole Cup. Former club captain Steve Turnbull was victorious in the Senior Points Cup, making him the overall club champion for 2011.

Ryan Head was in a field of his own to win the Junior Points Cup.

Finally, the last match of the year was the seasonal 'Fur 'n' Feather' Christmas gathering at Netteswell pond in Harlow.

Blighted by near-freezing conditions, only five of the 18 anglers present troubled the scalesmen.

Bill Beehan was successful, landing 4lbs 8ozs, exactly 1lb ahead of Bobby Groom with club captain Alan Heywood netting 1lb 11ozs of small gudgeon for third place.

Plumb primed for British Champs test

RONNIE Plumb will compete at the British Judo Championships in Sheffield on January 22. The 20-year-old, from Nicholls Field in Harlow, will be competing in the 100kg and over weight category.

Plumb, a third dan, is ranked third in Great Britain and second in England in his division. Straight after the British Champs, Plumb will represent England in the Commonwealth judo tournament in Cardiff on January 25. He qualified to represent England after shining in trials at Thetford in Norfolk in December.

He lost one fight by an arm lock to the reigning Great Britain champion Matthew Ciemper (Bolton), but still progressed to the England team. Plumb, who has represented England three times previously, trains at Redbridge Judo Club in Ilford.

Plumb said: "I'm confident I am going to do well in both events. My technique and fitness have improved over the last 12 months. "It would be an aim to be named as a reserve for the Olympics."

Aside from his judo, Plumb keeps fit by weight training three times a week at Harlow Leisurezone three times a week.

He added: "I find it hard to find people of my size in Harlow to practice against, whereas I can train against people heavier than me in Ilford."

Sky the limit for trio after county success

THREE Harlow students received a New Year's lift after qualifying for the UK Inter Counties Cross Country Championships in Birmingham.

The event on March 10 will be screened live on Sky TV.

Canaan Solomon, Amelia Barrett and Perry Rowan booked their spots after finishing in the top five of their races at the Essex County Cross Country Championships at Gloucester Park in Basildon on Sunday.

Representing Essex they could be joined by Harlow's Rosie Poole and Jodi Ratcliff.

In the U-13 boys race 3.5km race, Canaan (13), a Mark Hall School student made a break halfway through to win in 14 minutes, 3 seconds.

It was Canaan's fifth county title in the last 12 months and he will also represent the East Region in the London Mini Marathon on April 22.

Lewis Harknett, at only 11, also competed in the U-13 race and finished 13th in 15:52. Christian Barker was 23rd in 17:23 and Owen Harknett came 28th in 18:03.

In the U-13 girls 3.2km race, Stewards School pupil Rosie Poole (12) and 13-year-old Jodi Ratcliff (Mark Hall) came 6th in 14:48 and 7th in 15:09 respectively out of 55 starters.

Amelia Barrett (15), a Burnt Mill School pupil, achieved an excellent 4th spot in 17:30 from the large field of 64 in the U-15 girls 4.5km race.

Mark Hall student Alicia McArdell (14), debuting as an U-15, ran very well for 11th spot in 18:40. In the U-15 boys 4.5km race, Perry Rowan, a Burnt Mill pupil, was fifth in 15:39, just 21 seconds behind the winner. In the same race, Ben Patterson (14), a Mark Hall pupil was 18th in 17:11.

Men's strong showing seals second spot

>>cross country

STRONG performances from the men's team helped Harlow Running Club come second overall in the second race of a cross country competition.

Sunday's race at Newport near Saffron Walden was just under four-and-a-half miles long and saw Harlow come second out of four teams in the men's category.

The men's race was won by Saffron Striders, while Ware Joggers and Bishop's Stortford were third and fourth respectively.

Although Harlow were last in the women's event, their men's strong showing enabled them to come second overall.

Steve Murtagh led the way for Harlow, finishing second in the race closely followed by Jared Bethell and Mark Harris in 3rd and 4th places respectively.

Paula Reynolds was the first Harlow woman finisher and sixth overall.

She was followed home by Sharon Wright (10th) and Viki Steadman in (12th).

A team's overall position is determined by taking the points accrued by the first seven men finishers and first three women finishers from each club.

Saffron Striders won the event overall, ahead of Harlow (2nd), Ware Joggers (3rd) and Bishop's Stortford (4th).

After two races of the series, Harlow are joint second with Ware Joggers.

Out of Amo' but still win!

SONYA Amos has moved to France but her Harlow Hockey Club team-mates coped with her absence to beat Colchester seconds at home.

Amos was a valuable member of Harlow's first team squad for more than 10 years.

Her former colleagues made light of the Christmas break as they consolidated their spot in second place in the table on Saturday.

Colchester started sharply, but the home defence withstood their pressure.

Harlow then created scoring opportunities before they went ahead on 19 minutes.

Harlow Ladies 3, Colchester II 0

Essex Women's Hockey League, premier division

A frenzied goalmouth scramble preceded Charlotte Byers deflecting Claire Atack's shot into the goal.

Continued pressure from player-of-the-match Rebecca Dolan and Anna Ferdinando in midfield allowed Harlow to maintain their momentum.

Harlow doubled their advantage on 26 minutes. A Georgina Esterhuysen cross set up Atack, who calmly put the ball beyond the Colchester keeper.

The visitors started the second half with attacking intent and Harlow relied on strong reverse stick skills from Alex Figg, who combined with keeper Linda Rowley to make several clearances.

Harlow's lead was increased on 52 minutes when Carolyn Welsford capitalised on a Colchester error. Her trademark reverse-stick shot found the right corner of the goal.

Colchester exerted strong pressure for the rest of the match, but the home side worked hard and successfully cleared numerous defensive short corners to keep a clean sheet.

Harlow trail leaders East London by three points.

HARLOW (squad): Rowley, Shearman, Trimble, Figg, Welsford, Douglas, Dolan, Ferdinando, Spencer, Esterhuysen, Atack, Byers.

It's a 'happy deal' for football club

A YOUTH football club got their own 'happy deal' – after receiving a £1,700 windfall from burger giant McDonalds.

Langley Colts, based at the Church Langley Playing Fields in Harlow, got the cash from McDonalds franchisee, Tony Fagg.

The franchisee has been involved with Langley Colts for some time and this sum will help fund new goal posts and nets for the club.

Langley Colts, which has expanded to 21 teams including three girls sides since it received FA Charter Standard club status in 2007, will use the new equipment across all of the age groups.

Sir Geoff Hurst, McDonalds' Director of Football, said: "The McDonalds Community Football Programme aims to improve the standard of the grassroots game in communities across the UK.

"Tony's commitment to Langley Colts is great to see and it helps grassroots football go from strength to strength in the area."

Mr Fagg added: "It's a great honour to be able to help out Langley Colts. The club provide the local children with a great football education and the fact that they have over 200 kids playing for them every weekend shows what a great job they are doing."

Arshad Qureshi, chairman at Langley Colts, said: "We are incredibly grateful for Tony's generous donation to the club."

Futsal course to be held in town

THE Essex FA is helping to push the sport of Futsal with a beginner's guide in Harlow.

Essex FA Development Officer, Nick Emery, would like to see more coaches involved in youth football attending the association's first 'Beginners Guide to Futsal' course and experience first hand the benefits Futsal can bring to their young players.

With the winter weather often bringing outdoor football to a standstill, Futsal offers an excellent alternative to maintain fitness, develop techniques, and work on the principles of the 11v11 game in an indoor environment.

The course will take place on Sunday February 26 at Passmores School in Harlow from 10am to 4:30pm, costing £30 per candidate.

Recognised and supported by FIFA, UEFA and the FA, Futsal is now played worldwide and differs from the regular five-a-side style familiar to many in the UK. The main differences are marked lines rather than rebound boards – meaning the ball can go out of play – as well as square goals, heavier and 'reduced bounce' balls and a strict five-goal discipline law.

Originating in South America in the 1930s, it encourages closer ball control.

You can book on the course online at www.essexfa.com or contact Nick Emery on (01245) 393077.

Rams must bounce back from third loss

Stowmarket 15, Harlow 9

London, division three north east

THE Rams cannot afford any slip-ups when they host basement side Newmarket in two days' time (2.15pm KO).

Second-placed Harlow go into Saturday's game after losing their third league game this term when they went down at Suffolk side Stowmarket last Saturday.

Harlow were left kicking themselves as leaders Holt and third-placed Norwich both lost at the weekend.

A Rams victory over Newmarket will keep the pressure on Holt, who are currently nine points ahead of Harlow.

Harlow had the wind in their favour in the first half at Stowmarket and scored through two Michael Dobson penalties on 3 and 16 minutes.

However, the visitors were guilty of giving the ball away through aimless kicking.

Dobson's penalties came either side of a try for Stowmarket that was not converted on 15 minutes. This came after a series of phases.

Harlow led 6-5 at half-time.

Stowmarket dominated the second half, encamping in Harlow's half and in their 22, but were unable to cross the line for most of it.

Harlow's forwards did well in loose play and denied them the ball for a try, but Stowmarket went 8-6 ahead from a 70th-minute penalty.

Shortly after, good passing between the home backs and forwards set up a converted try for Stowmarket.

This stung Harlow who fought their way into their opponents' half against the ever increasing wind.

With time running out, Harlow opted for a kick at goal on 78 minutes which Dobson confidently slotted over.

This cut Stowmarket's lead to 15-9 and enabled Harlow to gain a bonus point for losing by seven points or less.

HARLOW: Hills, Mackie, Goggins, Heapy, Kotze (Drake 67), Dobson, Powell (Harron 56), Roze, Mallia, Prindville, Twinner, Hawkins, Roberts (Cunningham 52), M. Bowering, Eynon.

Olympics aim for Huckle

He stressed a good cardiovascular rate, plus a decent blood flow to the brain are important in keeping a shooter's equilibrium in place.

As with many British Olympic hopefuls, Huckle is excited about the chance of competing on home soil, but stressed the enjoyment factor is critical.

"I have spoken to [former Great Britain] athletes who said there will be nothing like it [competing in the Olympics in this country]. It will be an exceptional experience for every athlete," he said.

"The only thing I can control is my performances."

He added: "I've got to enjoy every second, whether it's a hard competition or a competition where there's an Olympic quota place on the line.

"I've got to realise I'm doing this because I enjoy it and rather than worry about the future or the past, keep it in the present and do what I know best and just enjoy it."

Harlow hit Bulls' eye to kick start 2012

HAWKS started the New Year with a bang as they defeated Bedford Bulls.

A three-week absence of action, meant Harlow started badly and missed several opportunities in the first quarter.

On the defensive end, the Bulls were given the red carpet treatment as they seemed to just coast down the middle for a lot of easy scores.

However, Luke Atkinson ensured Hawks stayed in touch with the hosts by hitting 12 points in the first eight minutes of play.

By that stage Bedford had already been on a 15-4 run.

Adam Ball found the basket for Harlow, who trailed 25-18 at the end of the first quarter.

Hawks came out for the second quarter with a little more urgency but

Bedford Bulls 62, Harlow Hawks 76

Herts Basketball League, division one were still unable to capitalise on some good scoring opportunities as Bulls extended their lead to double digits.

Harlow then came alive on the offence and Lee Morris bagged a three-pointer either side of a Luke Atkinson score.

Hawks finished the quarter with a Joe Taffe-Atkins three-pointer and an inside score from Ball to give them a 38-36 lead at the half-time interval.

The visitors' excellent defence paid dividends in the third quarter.

Their work rate only allowed Bulls' three points in the first six minutes of the quarter.

At the other end, Chris Jackson attacked the hoop for a couple of scores.

For the final three minutes of the quarter, Simon and Luke Atkinson dominated at both ends of the floor and gave Hawks a 56-48 lead going into the final break.

Once again the Hawks defence did a fantastic job of only allowing Bulls six points in the first eight minutes of the quarter, while racking up 18 themselves.

Simon Atkinson's work rate at both ends of the floor was excellent, as he recorded half the points scored in this quarter. He was a huge presence on the defensive end to help Harlow seal a 76-62 win with a successful pair of free-throws at the end.

Hawks coach Shab Niaz said: "That was a good win for us. I was a bit concerned with the way that we started the game and the guys knuckled down from the second quarter.

"We played some brilliant team ball at times on the break with two, three passes for a score after securing the rebound and running the floor.

"Our big guys, dominated for most of the game and that is good to see. We now can start focusing on the other competitions that we are in."

Hawks host Hatfield Magic in the Herts County Plate quarter-final at Harlow Leisurezone this Friday (tip-off 8:30pm).

HARLOW HAWKS: L. Atkinson (21pts), Ball (20 pts), S. Atkinson (16 pts), Taffe-Atkins (6pts), Morris (6pts), Jackson (4pts), Jones (2pts), S. Niaz (1pt) Overage.

Ban and injury prompts player hunt

Soham Tn Rangers 1, Harlow Tn 3

Ryman League, division one north

INJURY and suspension mean that Hawks manager Danny Chapman might have to bring another midfielder into his squad within the next two weeks.

Midfielder Getro Kilapi could be ruled out for a month with the knee injury sustained during the 3-0 home win over Chatham Town on New Year's Eve.

Leon Lalite will also be ruled out after it transpired that he received a red card when he was involved in a scuffle at the end of Harlow's 2-0 at Potters Bar Town 10 days ago. Lalite had already picked up a caution during the match for a foul.

He will be ruled out for three games, starting from the one away to Maldon & Tiptree in nine days.

Chapman explained: "We do have cover with Danny Brown and Tom Bruno. I might have to bring in another midfielder player.

"Getro could be out for a month. After speaking to [physio] Paul West-Hook it looks if as he has done in the medial ligament in his knee." He added: "I did not see the [Lalite incident] but the ref put in a report and the charge is violent conduct. He will miss three games.

BAN BLOW: Leon Lalite, seen here in action on Saturday at Soham Town Rangers, will be banned for three games (HSP0795989)

Striker Jeff Hammond will also sit out a suspension as his caution against Potters Bar was the 10th he has picked up this season. This carries an automatic two-match ban.

"We do not know which matches Jeff will be out for, but we have Luke Marshall and James Peagram that can come in."

The Hawks bounced back from their defeat at Potters Bar Town to win at Soham Town Rangers in Cambridgeshire on Saturday.

The first half at Soham was scrappy but saw Harlow go ahead when a fine passing move preceded Michael Deane nodding home a Peagram cross from the right on 12 minutes.

Harlow's advantage was doubled on 56 minutes when Deane shot home after he was set up by Leon Lalite.

Chapman said: "He has done very well and when he gets a chance, something is going to happen."

Mark Taylor then put Harlow 3-0 up with a 74th-minute free-kick from the left which curled in at the near post.

Soham netted through a Michael Simpson header from a corner on 77 minutes, but Harlow had done more than enough to take the spoils.

Chapman said: "We needed a reaction after the Potters Bar game. We did everything we needed to do to win the game. It was a case of winning the battle and after that we did what we needed to."

THE Hawks will be anxious to build on their Barrows Farm form when they host promotion hopefuls Tilbury in Ryman League division one north this Saturday.

Harlow, who have lost just one home league match this term, are seventh in the table and just one point behind fifth-placed Tilbury.

It makes Saturday's clash the proverbial six-pointer and a game of high stakes.

Harlow manager Danny Chapman said: "For years and years we have not made it a fortress at Harlow, but we did better last season and have lost just one game this year [in the league].

"If you win your home games and nick results away you have a fantastic chance. It's probably the biggest game of the season so far. All the players are looking forward to it."

He added: "We had a nine-game unbeaten run which was ended at Potters Bar, but we want to get going again and push on up the league.

"If we beat them, we go ahead but if they beat us they are four points ahead."

Harlow lost 2-1 in the game at Tilbury earlier this season.

Chapman commented: "I felt a draw would have been a fair result. They are a big side and a physical one.

"Statistics do not lie. They are in a play-off position. If we play our game and perform at the level we can, I'm confident we can get a good result."

Harlow will definitely be without defender Lamar Lemonious.

Lemonious, who has been bedevilled by injuries this season, was hurt in training last week after landing awkwardly on his left leg.

This is now in plaster and he has been diagnosed with a floating bone in his knee.

Chapman said: "He has my sympathy. He has been working hard.

"We do have Christian Wheeler as cover, but if Ryan Kirby or Jack Haverson get injured we might have to look outside."

The Harlow manager said that the club might be able to bring central defender Jack Dekanski in from Leyton Orient after he trained with the Hawks.

Chapman said: "Christian Wheeler has spoken with the Leyton Orient youth development manager and there is a possibility we can bring him back."

Striker James Peagram suffered a shin injury against Colchester United in the Essex Senior Cup quarter-final on Tuesday. He is doubtful for Saturday's home match against Tilbury.

olympics aim for Huckle

Crucial year as marksman battles for
GB spot

A BIG year is in sight for ace marksman James Huckle – as he strives to represent Great Britain at the London 2012 Olympics.

Huckle (21), from Old Harlow, has experienced international success over the last few years, but has yet to book a spot in the GB squad for the games later this year.

He came close to nailing qualification last year and the shooter, from Old Road, is clinical about his prospects.

"There are three spots and six shooters and I have a 50 per cent chance," said Huckle.

"That's how it stands. The numbers [for each team] could change, but I am quietly confident."

By DAVID RIMMER

He added: "The letters [announcing selection] will not go out until May and I have to stay focused. I missed out on qualifying [for the London Olympics] by just a point twice last year."

The European Championships take place in Finland from February 17-19 and a World Cup event will be held in London in April.

These are part of the build-up for former Mark Hall School student Huckle, who will look to build on the good form he showed in 2011.

He set a Great Britain record for the 50m three-position event with a score of 1,267 points at a World Cup event in South Korea in April.

This discipline involves shooting from prone, kneeling and standing positions.

The marksman also equalled a British record score of 596 points when he competed in the 10m rifle event at the IVIS Cup in Luxembourg in December.

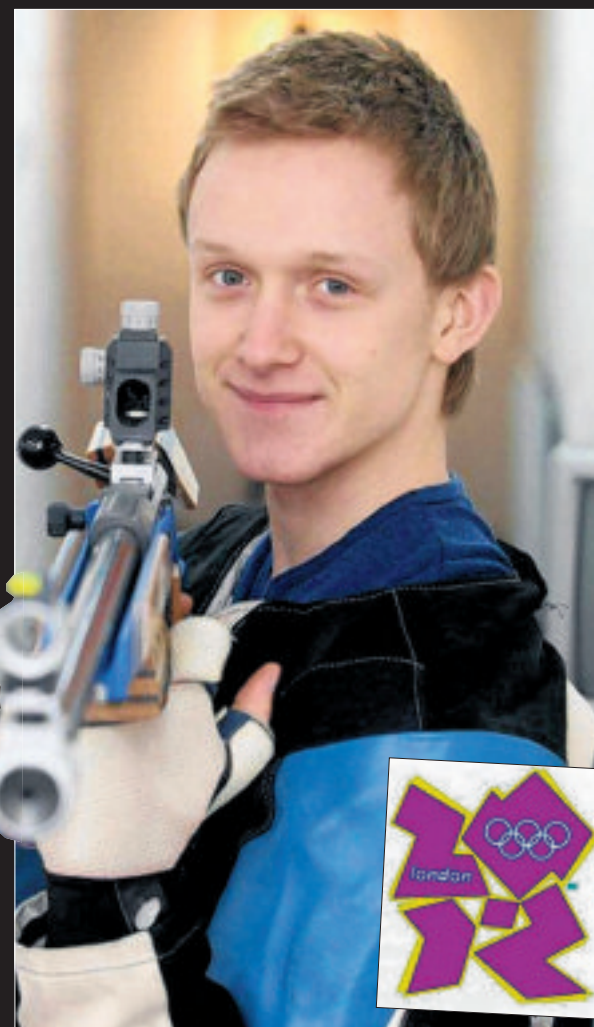

Huckle, who is studying for an NVQ in accountancy, said: "My air rifle performance is getting up to my three-positions shooting."

"I'm shooting better every month and I'm positive. It's about controlled excitement."

He added: "I've got to keep it relatively stress free and keep doing what I've been doing, that's the key."

Huckle said physical preparation in the form of circuit training outside the shooting range is crucial.

FIRED UP: Harlow's James Huckle is aiming fto qualify for the London 2012 Olympic Games this year

Bruno praises fans as freak own goal ends Hawks semi-final bid

TEENAGE midfielder Tom Bruno paid tribute to the sizeable and 'noisy' band of Hawks fans that travelled up to Colchester United's Weston Homes Community Stadium as brave Harlow Town suffered a narrow defeat in the quarter-final of the Essex Senior Cup on Tuesday evening.

For almost two-thirds of the second half it looked as though Danny Chapman's men could pull off a real upset, until the Us levelled and then scored a freak winner when James Peagram's skewed clearance flew into his own net.

Former LA Galaxy player Scott Smith had given Harlow a shock lead 40 seconds into the second half.

Bruno (19), playing in his first competitive match at a Football League ground, said: "The supporters were brilliant. You could not fault them coming all this way on a Tuesday night. "It was a good experience. I thought we all played well. We did not have many shots on goal but the team worked hard. It was frustrating to lose the game. They train every day – it's their profession."

Colchester fielded a side containing several experienced professionals, either returning from injury or out of first team favour.

But Harlow bridged the five-division gap well with the nPower League One outfit and were certainly not out-classed, although they owed much to a fantastic performance from keeper Bertrand Bossu, who was outstanding. Goalkeeper Mark Cousins was the first choice at the start of the season but lost his place after injury.

The side contained ex-Swindon defender Michael Rose, former Watford star John-Joe O'Toole and Kem Izzet, the brother of ex-Leicester City favourite Muzzy Izzet.

In a very quiet first half, Frenchman Bossu made excellent saves from Jordan Sanderson and then a brilliant double stop from Freddie Ladapo and then Bradley Hamilton near the break.

The hosts were stung when Smith scored his first goal for Harlow 40 seconds after the restart. Michael Deane's dangerous cross found the striker and he turned to beat his marker before firing home.

Bossu made an excellent stop from O'Toole, but the pressure told and Colchester equalised on 74 minutes.

A Michael Rose free-kick struck the Harlow wall and it fell kindly for John-Joe O'Toole to shoot home from the edge of the six-yard box.

Colchester's winner came in unlikely fashion four minutes later.

A cross from Izzet was sliced into his own goal by Peagram, back defending. Sanderson should have added a third but was denied superbly by Bossu.

Hawks sub Ryan Maxwell, back from a hamstring injury, impressed and could solve Chapman's problems in midfield (see page 87).

Us assistant boss and former Southampton defender, Richard Hall, said: "You can only judge [the young players] in games like this – even against Harlow. If people park the bus you have to do things a lot quicker. Their keeper has pulled off a couple of great saves."

Bruno added: "We play on Saturday [at home to Tilbury] and the league is more important. We want to get into the play-offs and get promotion."

HARLOW TN: BOSSU 9, Barnard 7, Deane 8, Haverson 6, Kirby 6, Lalite 7, Marshall 6 (Taylor 76), Bruno 7, Wixon 7, Smith 7 (Maxwell 55, 8), Peagram 7 (Brown 85). Subs not used: Wheeler, Mann.
